

GOALS NeVBO:

The NeVBO provides a forum for the dissemination and discussion of new findings, research questions and state-of-the-art techniques in the field of endothelial cell research.

To achieve this, the society has its annual meetings to bring together and to provide an overview of the different Dutch endothelial cell biology research groups.

The society aims to attract internationally renowned speakers and particularly provides young Dutch investigators a podium to present their endothelial cell research.